Inspectors tell hospital that it needs to improve

PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust (PAHT) must make improvements, a Government watchdog ruled yesterday (Wednesday).

The trust was given an overall rating of 'requires improvement' by inspectors from the Care Quality Commission.

Despite this, the CQC rated the trust 'good' as to whether its services were caring and said maternity and gynaecology was 'outstanding'. There was also praise for the children's ward, specifically the teenage zone which was described by inspectors as 'outstanding'.

But inspectors also found that the trust had significant capacity issues and was having to reassess at least three times a day. The pressure on beds meant that patients were allocated the next available bed rather than being treated on a ward specifically for their condition.

Struggling

Staff shortages meant that wards were struggling to cope with the numbers of patients.

The lack of administrative staff and poor systems meant that patients waiting for outpatient appointments were often double or triple-booked.

Despite this, it was noted that staff were exceptionally caring and went the extra mile for patients despite the added pressures on their workloads.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon welcomed the report and said: "The NHS staff at Princess Alexandra Hospital are second to none. We are lucky to have some of the finest NHS employees in the country who do so much to look after patients, even under very difficult circumstances."

"The CQC report for the most part recognises this and I congratulate the maternity and gynaecology departments."

BURGLARS LOOT VETERAN'S HOME

Former soldier's flat is raided while he is out at parade

UPSET: Stuart Anderson, whose home in Harlow was burgled. He says he no longer feels safe in the flat and has been sofa-surfing since Sunday's raid

William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

BURGLARS broke into the home of a former soldier while he was at a Remembrance Sunday parade in London.

The thieves struck at the flat in Old Harlow while Stuart Anderson, 28, was watching the march in Trafalgar Square.

Among the items they stole was his MacBook computer containing pictures of his children and the friends he had made during his tour of duty in Afghanistan.

Once the news of the burglary was shared on social media, an online campaign was started by Facebook groups Harlow Bargains!!! and Spotted in Harlow to buy Mr Anderson a new computer.

"It was a crazy day for me," he said. "It was quite emotional watching the soldiers march past and a friend had called to ask if I was okay."

"I got back to my flat and saw that my cupboard was open, which seemed strange. Then I couldn't find my laptop."

Heartless

"It had been taken, along with a large number of cigarette boxes. I was very upset and I think whoever did this was completely heartless. They even took the computer charger."

He added: "The laptop contained all of my previous work contacts, photos of my children and friends from the Army."

"Hopefully it will be backed up on the iCloud storage system but since the burglary I have not felt safe in the flat and I have been sofa-surfing."

Mr Anderson, who has three young daughters, started his career in the Armed Forces in 2008 and from 2009-2013 served as a rifleman in Afghanistan.

Since leaving the Army he has suffered from post-traumatic stress disorder and experiences flashbacks of his time on the frontline.

The online GoFundMe appeal was set-up with a target of raising £1,000 to buy him a replacement MacBook. So far more than £500 has been raised.

Crazy

"I posted the story on Facebook and it went crazy," he said. "I don't know the person who started the campaign but the idea is really sweet."

"It will be good if they do raise the money and if there is any left over I will donate it to Help for Heroes."

A spokesman from the Royal British Legion said: "We are shocked and saddened to hear Stuart has become a victim of theft. We extend every sympathy to him and his family."

The burglary took place between 8.30am and 8.30pm. Police are investigating the theft and have appealed for anyone with information to contact them on 101.

Mental health trust shuts ward for year

High risk patients to be treated elsewhere in county

Gemma Gardner

gemma.gardner@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW'S psychiatric intensive care unit has been shut down raising questions about the provision of mental health services in the town.

North Essex Partnership University NHS Foundation Trust closed the eight-bed ward, which is in the Derwent Centre at Princess Alexandra Hospital, on Friday.

A senior member of the nursing team, who asked not to be identified, told the Star: "The demise of mental health services within the Harlow area is very sad for patients and staff. Patients will suffer."

The foundation trust say the ward has been closed as part of the £15m refurbishment of the Derwent Centre and will reopen in 12 months, once the work is completed.

In the meantime, patients who pose a high risk to either themselves or others will be sent to wards in Chelmsford or Colchester to receive treatment.

But the trust has been accused of handling the closure badly by failing to consult properly with staff and the public.

The staff member, who has worked for the trust for several years, said that they were told the unit would not reopen due to the multi-million pound cost involved in doing so.

"Staff were aware of the closure in May 2016 and in previous meetings earlier this year staff were told that they would be supported and measures put in place, including a three-month consultation," they said.

"During the time of the first meeting on October 20 and until the patients were moved on Friday the patients became very upset and unsettled," they added.

"It was quite clear that the management had not taken into account the staff's psychological and emotional needs. I work for a trust but there is no trust in the management. It's appalling, towards the end the ward was in turmoil."

The staff member said the situation was made worse by a member of the management team going on holiday shortly before the closure.

They also said that during the week of the closure, a patient was transferred to another intensive care unit in a private vehicle against guidelines.

Councillor Ian Beckett, who has championed mental health services in Harlow, added his concerns: "As someone with experience of the Derwent Centre, as a visitor, an inpatient and an outpatient, I'm concerned to hear about the loss of Shannon Ward albeit temporarily.

"The pressures this is likely to place on crisis teams should not be underestimated along with the logistical difficulties it will present to patients and their families."

A spokesman for the trust said: "As part of this work it has always been planned that the Shannon House area of the centre, which is the psychiatric intensive care unit, would need to close for a period of time and alternative arrangements were already in place.

"However, as work has progressed it has been found necessary to move this closure forward. Shannon House has, therefore, closed as of last week and the patients have been moved to other units. Alternative provision for patients requiring intensive care are available elsewhere in the trust."

Feedback for school plan 'completely positive'

HELENA Mills said feedback to Burnt Mill Academy Trust's proposals to run a new secondary school has been "completely positive".

The BMAT trust announced last month plans to take on the running of the former Passmores Comprehensive site as a new free school and sixth form for students aged 11 to 19 years old.

BMAT now needs to secure support from the Tendring Road community and gain 750 signatures of support from parents.

"The feedback has been completely positive, and there has been no negativity at all," said Ms Mills. "I think people know we offer a really high quality education and see a real need for the school, and particularly a sixth form."

Ms Mills said she has met with three headteachers from primary schools in the Tendring Road area and the consensus has been that a new school is needed.

The new school is scheduled to open as a sixth form in September 2017 and a multi-form Year 7 entry from September 2018. Burnt Mill has until March to achieve the target number of signatures.

The trust oversee the running of secondary Burnt Mill Academy, First Avenue, Harlow, and Forest Hall Academy in Stansted and a number of Harlow primaries.

Hospital says it is already improving

said: "We welcome the CQC report and are grateful for their recognition of the capacity difficulties facing the trust that have led to both staffing and bed shortages, as well as issues in outpatients."

"Some of the actions already taken to address the concerns identified include:

■ A concerted recruitment and retention drive that has led to a significant increase in the number of new nurses joining the trust, with 200 expected in the coming months.

■ Working with our commissioners and social care partners to create facilities in the community to ease pressure within the hospital.

■ A considerable increase in the number of nurses in outpatients, an additional 400 outpatient clinics since August, and the option for patients to be seen and treated elsewhere in order to reduce waiting times. We have also just completed several months of rigorous checks to identify and follow up every patient awaiting treatment.

■ Intensive training and follow-up checks to ensure awareness among all our staff of existing guidance around end of life care.

■ The introduction of a state-of-the-art swipe-out security and surveillance system in the Maternity and Children's wards.

"We appreciate the CQC's recognition of the deep-rooted culture of care and compassion that runs throughout the organisation, as well as our many areas of excellence. We are never complacent however and will continue to work hard to address the issues raised by the CQC as well as replicate the good and outstanding areas of practice they found."

What is a leonberger?

- The breed usually measure around 70-75cm in height and weigh a typical 65-70kg
- Hagrid is 80cm from floor to shoulder and is 6ft 1in when fully outstretched
- He weighs 70kg, but one of his brothers weighs a massive 80kg
- The breed was created in 1840 by the mayor of Leonberg Henrik Essig to honour his town
- It was originally created by crossing the St Bernard with the newfoundland breed
- Despite their size, leonbergers relaxed temperament makes them an ideal family pet
- Typically black and tan in colour, leonbergers have a water-resistant coat
- They usually live for eight to ten years
- Leonbergers are still smaller than a great dane and lighter than a St Bernard

Sausage dog? Hagrid the hound sets new record

Leonberger belonging to Harlow family smashes banger mark

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

AN 11-stone dog is achieving national fame after setting a new Guinness World Record for eating sausages.

Leonberger breed dog Hagrid, who lives with his owners in Old Harlow, caught and ate 14 hot dogs in 30 seconds at a dog show in Birmingham.

With his shaggy coat and huge frame, the name Hagrid is well suited to the three-year-old.

His owners Sarah and David Woodthorpe-Evans, both 54, feed him with two or three turkey carcasses or a kilogram of tripe every day.

"He [the man from Guinness World Records] said he wanted to draw a crowd and asked if he could do any tricks. Hagrid is very laid back and placid, but they came up with the idea of throwing food to him," Sarah explained. "Hagrid was made to sit in a small area and only eat the sausages that he caught. By eating 14 in 30 seconds he smashed the previous record of seven."

Articles

The leonberger has gained fame in a number of national newspaper articles, but around Harlow he has been known for years.

"He is known all over Harlow and is very much a celebrity," Sarah added. "If we ever meet our daughter from school with him students will rush over."

Hagrid shares a home with the much-smaller Hermione, a labrador and poodle crossbreed who was a rescue dog.

"He is very relaxed and a bit of a plodder. We usually take him on walks in the fields in Old Harlow.

"Sometimes smaller dogs can be aggressive as he is so laid back, but he's best friends with Hermione and they play hide and seek together," said Sarah.

The dog's names were chosen by youngest daughter Carmen, 16, who has been described by her mum as "Harry Potter mad". David and Sarah have two other children daughter Bridget, 20 and son Ross, 18.

Sarah added: "Hagrid also loves swimming and has been trained to rescue people from the water.

"We've been to the coast before and he went round trying to save everybody whether they wanted it or not."

"We became interested in the breed after we came across a man who used to take his leonberger to various cafes in the area.

Impressive

"I think they are such impressive dogs, especially the males which have the manes. We did a bit of research and we were able to find a breeder selling the larger leonberger type."

Hagrid freely roams the downstairs of their family home, but the stress of walking down stairs on his large legs has led the owners to block him from going upstairs.

Ex-teacher jailed for 18 months for internet sex chats with teenager

A FORMER Harlow teacher who started a sexual relationship with a teenage girl over the internet has been jailed for 18 months.

Thomas Marriot, 25, was told he had exploited his position of authority and behaved in a "most grievous way" by abusing the trust that had been placed in him.

Marriot, who now lives in Southport, pleaded guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to five charges of causing a child to engage in sexual activity, causing her to watch a sexual act and three offences of downloading indecent images. He also admitted three further offences of downloading 291 indecent images to his mobile phone.

Prosecutor Carolyn Gardiner said Marriot sent her a picture of his top naked and the next day a full naked picture, and asked her for one back.

During a four-month period she sent 20 photos and received 20-30 back, but in April of this year she told her mother. The mother reported the matter and the defendant was suspended.

Andrew Nuttall, representing Marriot, said in mitigation the defendant accepted his abuse of trust was grave and what had started as banter had developed into inappropriate contact.

In addition to the jail sentence Marriot was banned from contact with the girl and ordered to remain on the Sex Offenders Register for 10 years.

No stopping dance show

SIR On Sunday, October 25 I was one of several people chaperoning the children of The Brenda Taylor School of Dance who were due to perform at Harlow Playhouse.

An electrical failure put the theatre, as well as the Harvey Centre, out of action for several hours. We had to evacuate the children, some of who had on just stage costumes and light clothing at the time.

It was a chilly day and we did not know just how long we would be standing outside. We were so grateful to the people in St Paul's Church who welcomed us in to the hall to keep the children warm while we waited.

It turned out to be a lovely time during which the congregation made drinks and welcomed us with open arms to listen to the speakers and invited the children to run through some of the numbers they were going to perform once the theatre reopened.

So a very big thank you to all at St Paul's for making what would have been a very stressful time into such a lovely, welcoming and fun episode.

Christine Green

No end to our pothole hell

SIR I, along with many others, would like to know from Essex County Council why, after making several reports of 19 potholes in my area, it has taken so long to repair them.

They were first reported on August 26, 2014. The county council told me they were not deep enough; perhaps one may not have been deep enough but 17 in one long row?

On exiting the road we have to drive through all of them and sometimes when we return we have to go through them again.

When I asked Robert Halfon to intervene, the county council told him they could not find them and asked him for more detailed location. I gave them lamppost numbers, house numbers etc.

Last Tuesday one was filled in but another less than two metres away was not less and neither were the long line of 17 others.

Alan Shadbolt
Tylney Croft, Harlow

YOUR photos

■ This week's photo is of Harlowbury Chapel in Old Harlow and was taken by reader Denis Sharp.

■ If you have a photo you have taken and would like to see featured, email a high

Just a way to make money

SIR I would like to respond to the letter in the October 29 edition of the Star regarding parking fee arrangements at Princess Alexandra Hospital.

At the end of September I was admitted to the hospital. My wife came to visit and put the £3 parking fee in the machine but it did not issue her with a ticket.

She then had to find another machine and pay the fee again. The following day the same thing happened. This time she called the contact number on the front of the machine and when she got through she explained what had happened and asked for a refund or a parking permit that she would be able to use on her next visit.

The person she spoke to apologised but informed her that the hospital trust does not issue refunds or parking permits, so two visits to the hospital cost £12 to park the car. Disgusting!

They are not interested in kind or goodwill gestures, only making money from people who can least afford it.

A.F. Earle
Tickenhall Drive, Harlow

Not lucky for those on list

SIR What an irony. Underneath the Star article by our local MP claiming to be concerned about housing was a massive advertisement from the Government explaining the large discount lucky tenants could receive if they buy their council houses.

Sadly, Harlow Council has been forced to sell 10,000 dwellings over the years. Many which would otherwise be available to people on the waiting list are now privately rented at twice the non-subsidised council rents – about £800 in the private sector as opposed to £400 for a council house.

What is worse, the council will now be forced to sell hundreds of more houses when they fall empty to the private sector and the money it receives will have to be given away to the Government. This in turn will be given to housing associations which, for the first time, will also be forced to sell off their housing stock.

On top of this, changes to Harlow's housing finance by the Government mean that it is financial impossible to continue to build new council houses.

Instead of warm words, Mr Halfon should concentrate on the practicalities of providing housing for rent as 3,500 people on the list are relying on him.

Michael Danvers
Tunmeade, Harlow

Bring back the darkness

SIR I read Darren Playle's letter about street lights (Star, October 29) with some sympathy.

Does Harlow Council intend to continue imposing this additional charge for street lighting into future years? Has it yet carried out any form of consultation to demonstrate that this policy is generally supported? If not, perhaps it should.

I, for one, would welcome back the peace, quiet and darkness of the night.

Sheila Sullivan
Morley Grove, Harlow

Shocked by ashes charge

SIR In January 2010 my mum passed away. We paid for a bronze pillar plaque at Parndon Wood Crematorium and this year expected to pay the quoted £63 for a five-year renewal.

We didn't get a reminder but luckily my sister was on the ball and remembered. Imagine our shock when the new prices were told to me. It is now £274 for 10 years or £424 for 20 years.

My parents ashes are in the middle of a muddy, barely grassed patch that looks walked on. The post is almost empty and looking faded with the older plaques sadly wearing.

Yes, the front of the crematorium is smarter with a glass roof and awning over the flower walk, but what exactly is the ordinary family paying for in upkeep as you don't even get a new plaque.

It makes me sad. My parents were one of the early pioneer business people in this town but this is too much money to give them a fitting resting place.

Valerie Steward
Westfield, Harlow

Put an end to the slaughter

SIR In 1945 the UN was founded to save succeeding generations from the scourge of war. The Security Council, and in particular its five permanent members (P5), were tasked with implementing that noble aim. The Labour Party, in its 1945 manifesto, looked forward to "a world of progress and peace."

What has gone wrong? Since 1945 there have been some 200 armed conflicts resulting in many millions of deaths. In almost all, one or more of the P5 have been involved, directly or indirectly. The world, and especially the Middle East, is awash with more weapons of all kinds than ever in history.

It really is time that the human race learned to settle its differences without periodically slaughtering one another and squandering its precious resources on the means to do so.

It is no disrespect to the young men who marched through Harlow the other day that they should never have been in Afghanistan in the first place. 9/11 was a crime, not an act of war. It could and should have been responded to using the mechanisms of international law, imperfect though they are. Had diplomacy and international law been used in 2001 instead of the mightiest military power in history attacking one of the world's poorest countries in the name of the so-called war on terror, many thousands of lives would have been saved and the world would be much safer today.

David Cameron refuses to learn the lesson that violence simply breeds more violence; he now wants to drop more bombs on Syria. I hope Jeremy Corbyn sticks to his principles and opposes any more military intervention in the Middle East, and that the Parliamentary Labour Party unites behind him.

Frank Jackson
Kingsmoor Road, Harlow

Crowds were so generous

SIR Following on from my letter last week, I would like to tell readers the final amount collected at the Town Park fireworks was £320. This is nearly three times the amount collected last year.

I would like to say a very big thank you to all the people on stage who promoted the collection, enabling so much more to be collected, and a huge thank you to all those who gave so generously.

Councillor Edna Stevens

Officer in tears at inquest into death of murder victim

Mum-to-be was killed by former boyfriend

Court Reporter

star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A POLICE officer broke down in tears during the second day of an inquest into the death of a heavily-pregnant young woman who was murdered by her former fiancé.

Essex domestic abuse safeguarding officer Amanda Staples was giving evidence at the inquest of Harlow College student Eystna Blunnie, which was reopened on Monday after a two-year campaign by her parents.

Ms Blunnie, 20, was killed on June 27, 2012, by Tony McLernon, who in March 2013 was sentenced to life and told he must serve at least 27 years before being eligible for parole.

After kicking and stamping on Ms Blunnie's body, he left her for dead in Howard Way, Harlow. Their unborn baby Rose did not survive the attack.

Conviction

An inquest was opened and adjourned a few days after her death but it was later decided a full hearing should not take place following McLernon's conviction.

However, Ms Blunnie's parents, Kevin and Susan, of Halling Hill, Harlow, pressed for the inquest to be reopened because they said there were "unanswered questions" about the case.

This week Essex area coroner Eleanor McGann told a jury of eight men and three women at Chelmsford Coroners' Court that the purpose of the inquest was to establish how Ms Blunnie came by her death and under what circumstances.

"You will be looking at what happened around her death and in the lead up to her death," she added.

The inquest is scheduled to last for three weeks and will hear evidence from witnesses on behalf of Essex Police, the Crown Prosecution Service, Essex Social Care, North Essex Partnership Foundation Trust and Princess Alexandra Hospital NHS Trust.

In her opening remarks Mrs McGann said the jurors, when reaching their conclusion, could expand on the murder verdict but not change it. They could also include other relevant matters.

On Tuesday, Detective Constable Staples told the hearing that she took a telephone call from Ms

Blunnie's father at 5pm on January 3, 2012.

Recalling computer notes of the conversation, DC Staples said Mr Blunnie told her his daughter had left the family home at Halling Hill on New Year's Eve and gone back with McLernon.

She wrote: "He said he and his wife were at their wits end and don't feel that they can take Eystna back again. This is causing so many problems within their family."

DC Staples told the hearing that Mr Blunnie had not reported any criminal offence or indicated his daughter was in danger. If he had, she said she would have escalated the case to a supervisor and asked an officer to call on her.

Under cross-examination by solicitor Matthew Gold, the officer agreed Mr Blunnie's conversation raised four new risk factors - that she had moved back with McLernon, her father felt McLernon had some hold over her, her parents felt they couldn't take her back and she was pregnant.

Mr Gold asked DC Staples whether a fresh risk assessment should have been carried out at that stage. The officer replied: "Yes in the cold light of day and now looking at it. Yes, another risk assessment should have been done."

Mr Gold went on: "Then the conclusion must be that the response at the time was inadequate?" C Staples replied: "I have to say yes." She then broke down in tears.

Violence

On the first day of the inquest, Inspector Martin Passmore, who headed up the murder inquiry for Essex Police, confirmed his force had been aware of McLernon's record of domestic violence with previous partners.

The hearing was told that in a text message sent to a friend, McLernon wrote that he wanted someone "to really hurt Eystna" and on another occasion he said he would "go to prison for her".

PC Matthew Seager, who dealt with two alleged domestic violence incidents in early December 2011, said Ms Blunnie did not want McLernon arrested and said would not support a prosecution. No further action was taken, the jury was told.

The hearing continues.

Organisers thrilled by turnout at first meeting of new club for deaf people

ORGANISERS of a club for the deaf and hearing impaired said they were amazed when more than 70 people turned up for its first meeting.

The Harlow Deaf Club, which has been started by the Harlow Deaf Society, held its inaugural get-together and quiz night at the Women's Institute Hall in Garden Terrace Road, Old Harlow, on Saturday.

The club will now hold meetings at the same venue on the first Saturday of every month.

Everyone present paid £1 to participate in the quiz night and the money was presented to the winning team, who decided to hand it back to keep the club running.

Organiser Tamara Hudson said: "We were amazed to have such a large turnout. There are a number of deaf people in Harlow but they do not have any suitable place to socialise as they have communication barriers."

THUMBS UP: The first meeting of the Harlow Deaf Club was a success

"This club is a place for deaf people to come along, have fun and just be themselves."

She added: "My dad, who was deaf, passed away two years ago and we have started this group in his memory."

"Now we are reaching out to west Essex. We are providing a centre for the deaf community, who can struggle in everyday life."

"We would invite anyone who is deaf to come along and join the fun."

The next event will be a Christmas party on Saturday, December 5 with children's games from 7-8pm and a visit from Santa Claus.

To find more out more information about the club, visit its Twitter page at <https://twitter.com/HarlowDeafClub>.

REMEMBRANCE SUNDAY: Crowds gather at Harlow war memorial to p

Remembering

Gemma Gardner and William Mata
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW stood in silent tribute to those service men and women who have lost their lives in conflict at the Remembrance Day service.

Several hundreds watched on as the annual Remembrance Sunday parade marched down School Lane into Harlow Town Park led by former servicemen and women of the British Legion, and followed by cadets from all three arms, members of St John Ambulance and Scouts and Guides groups.

They ringed the Nettleswell Memorial outside the Greyhound pub, which bears the names of those who fell during the First and Second World Wars.

Hymns were sung and passages from The Bible and the poem The Soldier by Rupert Brooke were read to the assembled crowd.

Poppy wreaths were then laid at the foot of the war memorial by representatives of organisations including Harlow Council, emergency services, political parties and youth groups.

Harlow MP Robert Halfon and Harlow Council deputy chairman Edna Stevens were among those who placed wreaths at the memorial.

Standards were lowered as the Last Post was played by Harlow Brass Band, followed by an immaculately observed minute's silence.

Following the wreath-laying ceremony, people came forward to leave simple wooden crosses adorned with poppies dedicated to individual servicemen and women.

Royal British Legion branch chairman Bob Hunt said: "It is 94 years since the British Legion began its campaign to offer help and assistance to serving and ex-service personnel and their families.

"Our role as the custodians of the nations remembrance is also very important to us and

He added: "Our thoughts today are with all those families who have lost sons, daughters, husbands and wives in the service of our country. We will never forget them."

Harlow Council held a two-minute silence to mark Armistice Day outside the Civic Centre at 11am yesterday (Wednesday).

Pupils create giant wreath to remember

A GIANT poppy wreath was created by dozens of primary school children in the Harvey Centre.

Around 30 children from Year 4 and 5 at Little Parndon Primary School were invited to the centre to create the wreath, which will be displayed in the centre for a week.

Veterans and members of the Royal British Legion were also on hand to help.

Bryan Young, centre manager, said: "Every year, we welcome the British Legion to the centre to raise money for their Poppy Appeal."

"This year, we wanted to go one step further and involve the local community."

"We were delighted to work with Little Parndon Primary School to create this giant wreath, which will be displayed in the centre for all our shoppers to see."

ECSTATIC: Babs Daniels

Children's novel could help mum realise dream of a writing career

AN aspiring author is appealing for the help of Star readers to make her children's novel a bestseller.

Babs Daniels, 44, of Fesants Croft, Harlow has never had a book published but hopes to make her dream come true through an online campaign.

A manuscript of her fantasy story Danny and The Coin Of Flagheart impressed compilers of online site Britain's Next Bestseller who selected it to run for publication.

She now needs to secure 250 pre-orders to land a book deal.

"I was just ecstatic to have been chosen," she said. "Not that many people get chosen to be represented on the site and it means a lot to me to have been selected."

Mum-of-four Mrs Daniels, a former teaching assistant at St Mark's West Essex Catholic School, is currently studying for a master's degree at the University of East London. She hopes the success of the novel will be the start of the writing career of which she has dreamed.

"It would mean everything to me to be writing books for a living," she said. "Life has been hard recently as my husband has not been very well and money has been tight. This could be a way out for me."

"The book went online this week and I have until January 1 to achieve the target."

The plot sees the young protagonist and his sister transported by a magic coin to the mythical country of Quantifigaldo where their adventures begin.

In return for pre-ordering the book, buyers also have the option of having their name printed in every copy. To pre-order the book for £8.99 visit <https://britainsnextbestseller.co.uk/index.php/book/index/DannyandtheCoinofFlagheart>.

Elliot joins chain gang for Children in Need challenge

College student is part of One Show's rickshaw team

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A YOUNG cancer survivor is pedalling for Pudsey as part of the BBC's Children In Need 470-mile Rickshaw Challenge.

Harlow College student Elliot Lewis, 16, was picked to join the ride from Land's End to the East End following his involvement with Teens Unite, a charity which works with and supports young cancer sufferers.

At the age of 14 Elliot was diagnosed with Nodular Lymphocyte Predominant Hodgkin's Lymphoma, a rare type of blood cancer. Although now in remission, the cancer remains and he needs to be monitored regularly.

It was through the project that Elliot became good friends with cancer sufferer Sadie, who sadly passed away earlier this year. He is undertaking the Rickshaw Challenge in her memory.

During the course of the challenge he will be flanked by five other youngsters who have all received support from projects funded by Children in Need.

They set off from Cornwall on Friday with The One Show presenter Matt Baker, who will cycle alongside the team

The route

- Day 1: Land's End to Padstow
- Day 2: Padstow to Okehampton
- Day 3: Okehampton to Taunton
- Day 4: Taunton to Bristol
- Day 5: Bristol to Winchester
- Day 6: Winchester to Brighton
- Day 7: Brighton to The Historic Dockyard Chatham
- Day 8: The Historic Dockyard Chatham to Elstree

throughout the challenge. Co-presenter Alex Jones will split her time reporting from the studios and on the road with the team.

Elliot said the support he received at Teens Unite had been a great help in his battle against illness and he is hoping to raise as much money as possible to help the charity continue its work.

Tracy Greenall, head of sixth form at Harlow College, said: "We are thrilled with Elliot. He has had to combine absences from college for filming with settling into a new department and catching up with missed work."

"The way he spoke on stage at Wembley Stadium in the recent broadcast of The One Show was truly inspiring."

College principal Karen Spencer added: "We are incredibly proud of Elliot and want Harlow College and the community to get behind him and Team Rickshaw in raising funds for BBC Children in Need."

The challenge has become a regular part of Children in Need and has already raised almost £8m. To support Elliot and his fellow riders you can donate £5 by texting the word TEAM to 70705 or £10 by texting TEAM to 70710.

Frozen stars to light up Christmas in town centre celebrations

IT will begin to look a lot more like Christmas in Harlow when the town centre's festive lights are turned on this weekend.

Characters from the hit Disney film Frozen will flick the switch during an afternoon of family entertainment taking place in The Water Gardens on Saturday.

The shopping complex has joined forces with the Harvey Centre and Harlow Council to organise the Launch of Christmas event.

A stage will be erected in front of the Civic Centre. The fun begins at midday with performances by singer Aaron Norton and Funky Voices Choir.

At 3.30pm snow queen Elsa and other characters from the Frozen will take to the stage singing songs from the film before mingling with the crowds.

There will also be appearances by Harlow Rock Choir, the cast of the Playhouse pantomime Snow White and dance group Hip Hop Pop.

The stars of Frozen will then return to the stage at 5.15pm to turn on the lights.

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy said: "We are really looking forward to this year's Christmas launch.

"The line-up of activity is fantastic and there promises to be an exceptionally festive atmosphere."

"The event brings Harlow together and will celebrate some of the best local acts and much more."

Teacher boxes up festive gifts

Christmas presents will bring cheer to poor children

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A PRIMARY school teacher is getting wrapped up in a Christmas challenge to give gifts to children who would otherwise not receive a present.

Sarah Walker, of Sycamore Field, Harlow, has filled and wrapped nearly 70 shoeboxes with gifts for youngsters in eastern Europe.

Mrs Walker, who teaches at Reedings Primary School in Sawbridgeworth, was moved to do something for charity after visiting a community in Africa during the summer.

"When I went to Kenya for my honeymoon I saw the kids out there have nothing and I wondered what I could do about it," she said.

"I heard about the shoebox appeal and I thought it was something I could do. I have wrapped and put together 63 of them now and I have enough things to do more.

"It's a great thing to do as these children would not get a present otherwise."

Mrs Walker had intended to send the presents to an African village but was unable to find an appropriate charity so instead picked Blythswood Care, a charity based in Scotland which delivers them to youngsters in Romania.

BOXES OF DELIGHT: Sarah Walker with some of the gifts

She spent the half-term break wrapping the boxes and will soon be sending them away.

"My house is just now full of boxes," she said. "Five of us spent a long time wrapping them. I have packed them with stationary, toiletries, underwear, hats, socks and presents.

"Children at the school were very generous and my mum also helped a lot by asking her teacher friends to donate."

Learning Christmas lines

PUPILS at Little Parndon Primary School are busy learning their lines for their Christmas production.

Children at the school in Park Mead, Harlow, will perform Squeak - The Musical for parents and staff in the days before they break up for the holiday. The production is one of the highlights of the school year and pupils in Years 3-6 auditioned for a part.

Among those who were successful were Kerrie Ayling and Taia Newby, who are pictured above.

Question time for Halfon during visit to academy

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon was quizzed by pupils in Years 5 and 6 at Kingsmoor Academy when he visited the school to give a talk about his time in Parliament.

Although the children are still some way off voting age, they took the opportunity to ask Mr Halfon some challenging questions about why he is a Conservative and what it is like working in Westminster.

He said afterwards: "I have invited all the children who participated, and their teachers, to come for a tour of Parliament in the near future."

Nursery's charity support

A CHILDREN'S nursery is celebrating the success of year-long fundraising campaign in aid of family support charity Home Start UK.

Kiddi Caru, in Kiln Lane, Harlow has raised more than £8,000 by holding family fun days and a Snowdonia walking challenge.

Nursery manager Vania Farinha said: "It is important there is a support structure that can help families cope during difficult times."

Students join in a cultural celebration

STUDENTS at a Harlow secondary school shared their cultural heritage through art and music when they celebrated Black History Month.

Traditional African drumming, dance, song and fashion were on the timetable at St Mark's West Essex Catholic School in Tripton Road.

Year 10 student Ruvimbo Mukachana, who was one of those who took part, said: "We think it's important to help each other understand about black history and our changing cultural background. "I was proud and excited to take part and to express my identity."

Organisers plan 'twist' to mark first anniversary of town parkrun

A RUNNING craze which has taken Harlow by storm will be celebrating its first anniversary on Saturday.

Harlow parkrun, a timed 5km run which takes place in the Town Park every Saturday morning, has proved very popular during the past 12 months.

More than 1,300 individuals have taken part and almost 6,000 total runs have been completed. People have taken part with pushchairs and dogs and participants are welcome to run, jog or walk.

The average number of people taking part currently stands at 108, with the record attendance being 154. It is hoped Saturday's anniversary will smash that figure.

The anniversary run will start at 8.30am and feature a surprise twist and special prizes.

Initially launched with funding from Harlow Health Centres Trust and Active Essex and support from Harlow Council and Active Harlow, the parkrun is now totally managed by a dedicated team of volunteers. There is a core team including event director Vicky Calver and run directors who are supported by a team of volunteers every Saturday morning.

Community

"It has been a pleasure and an honour being involved with parkrun," said Vicky. "We see the community coming together from all walks of life, from children as young as five right up to people in their 80s."

"We have witnessed some massive changes in people's ability and appearance and, more importantly, self-confidence. The friendships that have built over this past year are a joy to watch and everyone is so supportive of each other."

"There is no time limit; we wait for everyone to finish regardless of whether it takes 17 minutes or one hour and 20 minutes."

Councillor Emma Toal, portfolio holder for youth and community at Harlow Council, said: "I'm really pleased that so many people have joined in over the past year."

"The volunteers and directors involved in parkrun have done a fantastic job in its organisation and execution and we're hoping for another excellent turnout at the event's first birthday celebrations."

To get involved you need to register in advance, free of charge, in advance at www.parkrun.org.uk/harlow to get a barcode which will enable you to get your official time at the end of the race.

Students get anti-bullying message

STUDENTS at a secondary school in Harlow took part in an anti-bullying assembly to coincide with the launch of a film on the subject.

The London Bus Theatre Company visited Passmores Academy on Friday ahead of the release of Angels vs Bullies, which has been funded by The Essex Community Foundation and is being shown in Cineworld cinemas.

Screenings of the supernatural teenage drama start tomorrow (Friday) to coincide with national Anti-Bullying Week 2015.

Leading the cast is rising male model Harry Goodwins in the role of teenage gang leader Gabriel, who develops an ability to see ghosts within the walls of a school.

PULLING NO PUNCHES: Chris Turner of the London Bus Theatre Company who gave a talk at Passmores Academy

He then begins to work with the ghosts to save a fellow pupil from being bullied.

LBTC director and film producer Chris Turner said: "The reason we started this project is because around 20 young people in the UK take their own lives a year because they are being bullied at school."

Mr Turner, making his debut behind the camera, added: "It's fantastic news for all the young people that Cineworld have agreed to screen the film as it will reach a wide audience."

Auditions will soon be held for a follow-up to the film. Mr Turner said: "If you want to audition for the second film and see yourself on the big screen, then pick up an audition form from Cineworld when you go to see Angels vs Bullies."

For film times see the Harlow Cineworld listings on page 25.

Family support charity launches winter appeal

TV presenter champions Home-Start campaign to raise funds

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A CHARITY which helps families in need is hoping for a blizzard of support for its winter fundraising campaign.

Home-Start Harlow, which provides counselling, emotional and practical support for families throughout the town, relies on donations to allow its team of volunteers to keep the service running.

Television presenter and Home-Start ambassador Kirstie Allsopp, who is leading the charity's national Snowflake Appeal, said: "There were many children who Home-Start Harlow had to turn away last year because there weren't the funds to recruit and train a volunteer to help them."

"But their volunteers, who work with these children, genuinely change lives for the better, for ever."

Last year Home-Start Harlow, which is based at the Latton Bush Centre, managed to support 280 children in 117 families, but statistics show there are others who are still experiencing hardship or tragedy.

Common family situations that Home-Start volunteers are involved in include domestic violence, mental illness, drug and alcohol abuse.

Miss Allsopp added: "Anyone in Harlow can help. The charity has more details on its website where you can donate money, buy snowflakes, hold a cake sale or by getting sponsored on your snowboard – there is something for everyone."

"When families struggle to cope with illness, disability, bereavement, poor housing, mental ill-health or many of these problems at once, Home-Start supports them until they can stand on their own two feet again."

The Snowflake Appeal runs until the end of January and national charity scheme manager Kay Pitt has urged people to be generous in supporting it.

She said: "It's so important at this special time of year to remember those families who dread Christmas rather than look forward to it."

"I am asking people to make a donation or fundraise for the appeal. There's nothing better that you can do for those children this Christmas time."

"Every child is as unique and fragile as a snowflake, and all children deserve the best start in life."

Store theft suspect is caught on camera

POLICE investigating the theft of a quantity of meat from a Co-op store in Harlow have released a CCTV image of a man they want to question.

The theft took place at the supermarket in Maunds Hatch on the morning of Saturday, September 19.

A man was seen to put the items inside his jacket and leave the store without making any attempt to pay.

Anyone who recognises the man in the picture is asked to contact PC Rebecca Hall at Harlow police station on 101.

Mr Jeremy Scott, Deputy Headteacher and the Heads of Sixth Form, Mr Stephen Cove and Mrs Lauren Morbey, will speak to parents and prospective students in the hall at 18:15.

There will be an opportunity to speak to subject teachers and current students and a chance to view the school's outstanding facilities, including the Study Centre, the re-designed Common Room and the new Mathematics Building.

A tour of the school can be arranged on request. We look forward to meeting you.

Schoolgirls lose inches of hair for charity trim

Dani and Ashley sport new styles to raise funds for Little Princess Trust

KINDEST CUT: Alisha Cuthbert

NEW LOOK: Dani Turner

William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

SAYING goodbye to your hair is never easy but two kind-hearted youngsters have parted ways with their locks for a worthy cause.

Harlow schoolgirls Dani Turner, 9, and Alisha Cuthbert, 7, both went for a trim in support of the Little Princess Trust, a charity that provide real hair wigs for children suffering from hair loss.

Their hair will now be sent to a wig makers to help put a smile on the face of a young sufferer of cancer, alopecia or tinea capitis, a condition that causes baldness in children.

Dani, who attends Reedings Primary School in Sawbridgeworth, has so far raised just under £350 since she had around 10 inches cut from her hair, which was restyled into a bob cut.

Samantha Harper, whose salon Harpers Hairdressers cut Dani's hair, said: "She was a real star. Some of her family were there to watch and most of us in there gathered round to support her.

"The charity has become very popular and the hairdressers has been supporting them for the last four years.

"The new cut suits her and she looks very grown-up."

Scissors

Alisha, from Milwards, Harlow, has raised £150 after she went under the scissors at Cutting Edge hairdressers, in High Street, Harlow.

Her mother Melanie Cuthbert said the cut was partly inspired by the story of Ava McCarthy, a young Harlow girl who survived cancer.

Mrs Cuthbert said: "A couple of her friends did the sponsored haircut because of Ava last year and she decided to do it too.

"She is pleased to have done it and also very excited, as every morning she is asking for the latest figure.

"We're very pleased to have raised so much as she only set a goal of £50 originally."

In brief

Christmas Haven call for volunteers to help

HARLOW: Can you spare some time over Christmas to help the homeless? If so, volunteers are being sought for this year's shelter.

The Chocolate Run's Christmas Haven will run from midday on Wednesday, December 23 until midday on Sunday, January 3.

The charity's volunteer recruitment evening will take place on Thursday, November 19 at 7pm in the Great Parndon Community Centre in Abercrombie Way.

The evening is an opportunity for prospective volunteers to go along and find out more about what the role involves.

The Christmas volunteering rota will also be available on the night.

For more visit www.thechocolaterun.org before emailing Jo Busson via the website or ring her on 07951612803.

Charity coffee event

HARLOW: Members of the Harlow and Epping Forest Breathe Easy Group will be holding a coffee morning at the Purford Green Community Centre next week.

The event is taking place to mark World C.O.P.D. Day which is held to raise awareness about chronic obstructive pulmonary disease and improve care for sufferers.

The coffee morning takes place on Friday (November 20) from 10am to noon.

Admission is free and as well as refreshments there will be a raffle.

Pharmacy stalwart steps away from the counter after 44 years of service

Popular shop assistant started work as a Saturday girl in 1971

ALL SMILES: Pharmacist Vishal Mehta, Andrea Oakley, Val Davies, Jacqueline Timpson, Sally Watson, Lisa Spearman and Jo Bilton, outside the pharmacy
William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A LONG-serving pharmacy assistant who started as a Saturday girl back in the 1970s has handed over her last prescription after deciding to call it a day.

Jacqueline Timpson, 69, of Potter Street, Harlow, was the toast of her colleagues when she completed her final day behind the counter at Potter Street Pharmacy.

She started work in 1971 and was quickly promoted to full-time counter assistant, a role which she kept ever since.

While others have come and gone, Mrs Timpson has remained a familiar face for customers and a much-loved colleague.

Shop manager Vishal Mehta said

staff are already missing her "bubbly and quirky" personality.
"She is very charismatic," he said. "She was very caring towards the customers and many have been asking where she is."

Mr Mehta said Mrs Timpson, who is married with two children and four grandchildren, has retired to spend more time with her family.

Family

"She is very family orientated," he added, "but since she retired she has come back into visit her former colleagues and pick up prescriptions."

Colleague and friend Valerie Davies said: "She has always been here with her lovely smile that greets you as you come in through the door."

"We all miss her but she regularly comes back to visit."

Train firm offering 24-hour tweeting

RAIL users can access travel information around the clock on Twitter after train operator Abellio Greater Anglia extended the hours of its service.

More than 60,000 passengers follow the company's @greateranglia and @Stansted_Exp accounts which are now available 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Its social media team will respond to queries and comments from 6.30am-10pm on weekdays, 10am-7pm on Saturdays and 10am-6pm on Sundays.

Customer Services director Andrew Goodrum said: "Twitter is one of the many ways we communicate with our customers and continues to provide live information every day."

Work starts on £180k project to refurbish Latton lock gates

WORK has started on a £180,000 project to remove and repair four massive lock gates at the River Stort near Harlow.

The Canal & River Trust, a charity responsible for the maintenance and care of the waterway network, is carrying out the work which involves engineers draining the water from Latton lock before removing the gates with a crane.

The 20-year-old wooden gates, which weigh between 2.8 and 3.5 tonnes, will be refurbished to ensure they do not leak after two decades of wear and tear.

The work is due to be completed by the end of November.

Canal & River Trust supervisor Graham Smith said: "We're really pleased to be getting these gates repaired."

"They've suffered over the years of being constantly opened and closed so we need to get them out of the water and make some repairs."

"The Stort is a beautiful waterway and this is a great example of the type of work that needs to be done to keep it in top condition so that everyone can continue to enjoy it."

TAKE IT AWAY: A crane lifts one of the lock gates which are being refurbished

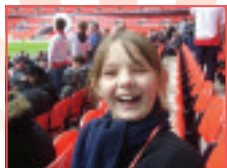

This winter the trust will be working on around 164 lock gates across the country, as well as carrying out repairs to aqueducts, reservoirs and tunnels.

A WINDOW ON HISTORY: Inside one of the original nurseries

Generation gain: Supplying colour through the ages to the royals and us locals alike...

IN 1914, Bernard Chapman's father was part-way through an apprenticeship at Europe's largest nursery when, like most young men, he joined the armed forces and spent four years fighting for his country.

When he left the Army in 1918, he decided to buy his own nursery on the Hoddesdon side of Dobbs Weir.

He quickly gained a reputation for high-quality produce, growing cucumbers and tomatoes in the summer and Snowball chrysanthemums in the autumn.

At Christmas, pot hyacinths and little tulips were grown, followed by daffodils and tulips until it was time to plant tomatoes and cucumbers again.

The emphasis was on quality produce, and most of it was sent to Covent Garden for West End clients.

However, greengrocers and florists locally soon got to hear of his reputation and started to purchase from the nursery, coming from as far afield as Loughton, Epping and Chelmsford.

In 1927, disaster was to strike when the Lea Valley was hit by extreme floods which ruined the crops.

Magnificent

Mr Chapman decided that he wanted to move to higher ground and in 1930 he purchased Beale Oak farm at Roydon Hamlet – 110 acres of land with a magnificent house where Bernard was born.

He set about building a new nursery, using the farm buildings to grow mushrooms. Much of the rest of the land was sold off.

Once again he built up a high reputation and was to win the Lea Valley Growers' prize four times in a five-year period.

He was presented with a superb silver trophy but, sadly, this was stolen in 1971.

Mr Chapman started a delivery service to shops as far afield as Saffron Walden, Romford and shops in north London.

In 1939 petrol rationing caused major problems with how far he could deliver and the Government made him grow food not flowers, which was problematic as he was not being able to purchase any bulbs from Holland.

With North Weald and Hunsdon aerodromes so close, it became a very hostile area.

In Nazeing Mr Chapman had ideas to move to a safer area and purchased an 11-acre property with two houses, in which sister-in-law Lillian and family still live today.

It was during this time that the Chapmans first encountered the Royal family, as the Queen Mother's childhood home was nearby.

Decorate

The firm has supplied the Bowes Lyon family ever since; Lillian and her daughter Sue recently had to decorate the local church for a visit by the Queen.

Mr Chapman's son, Bernard, learned many of his skills at Whitwell, growing sweet peas, Sweet William, chrysanthemums etc, which he learned to pick and

In 1953 Bernard joined the RAF and when he left the service the Chapman family made its first venture into retail, purchasing Floral Garden in Hitchin and also a shop in Stevenage. These were an instant success, so Bernard decided to train at the British Academy of Floral Art in London, where his tutor made the main tribute for King George VI. Bernard passed the exam with honours.

The business was now flying but disaster was to strike when Bernard's father suffered a heart attack, passing away two years later.

Family business

This left Bernard and his brother Arthur to run what was fast becoming a very large family business.

At the age of 23 Bernard decided to give up his football aspirations and concentrate on the business.

He also then met a beautiful young woman and they have now been married for 53 years.

From then on the business grew rapidly, with 18 shops and a distribution network to 80 further outlets.

It was to become the third largest Interflora outlet in Britain, spreading across five counties.

At its peak it was importing from many countries, particularly Holland, Israel, Kenya and various South American countries and one grower locally was contracted to supply 10,000 stem chrysanthemums per week from Covent Garden (£5,000 pounds of flowers in today's terms, or £50,000 per week).

A similar amount was spent at the Dutch auctions at Aalsmeer.

The business was beginning to spread out so Arthur and Bernard decided to split it in to two companies, Arthur taking the Hertfordshire side nearest his home, while Bernard took on the Essex area with shops in Harlow, Basildon, Braintree, Brentwood, and so on.

Important

The market still played an important part and was handed over to Steve Webb to run. Gradually the salad side was run down to concentrate on the flower side of the business.

The wholesale division was also run down to concentrate on the firm's retail outlets.

The Hertfordshire division run by Arthur then suffered a major disaster when he was diagnosed with cancer and his son Richard – Bernard's nephew – died in an accident. As a result, the Hertfordshire shops had to be sold off.

However, the Essex side of the company continued to flourish under Bernard's stewardship, with son Geoff now playing a major role. Daughter Tracy is also a director.

The firm has supplied many rich and famous clientele, including Dame Barbara Cartland, who insisted it was the only florist that knew what pink was. Another royal connection came via her daughter Raine, Countess Spencer, who became the wife of the father of Princess Diana. The firm supplied many

Swing kings bring a festive showcase

CHRISTMAS has come early for fans of 1950s easy listening with a tribute act bringing some festive fun to Harlow Playhouse.

Touring band Five Star Swing will perform The Big Band at Christmas, a show which they have taken all over the country.

As part of their national poppy appeal tour Five Star Swing will be performing classic hits on Wednesday, November 18.

The songs of Frank Sinatra, Nat King Cole, Glenn Miller, Dean Martin and Tony Bennett will come to life while Christmas classics will be given the big band treatment.

Five Star Swing are most noted for their jazzed-up covers of Jingle Bells and Bing Crosby's White Christmas, which has featured on the BBC's Children in Need.

The group are led by Chris Smith Jr; the composer and arranger for both BBC Big Band and Herb Miller Big Band - Herb being the brother of the legendary Glenn Miller.

"My father, Chris Smith Sr; used to perform with Sinatra's band and the original Ted Heath band, so I've been brought up with this style of music," he said.

"What's interesting these days is the broad range of age groups that follow the big band sound, it was pop music in the 40s and incredibly still popular to this day."

The versatility of the band and strength of individual performance has won the 11-piece five star reviews.

At the front of the group is singer Simone Smith who has recorded with Paul Weller and has credits including the Paul Merton TV Show and the Russell Harty show.

David Waller, Five Star's drummer, said: "Fans have enjoyed this feel good style of music for generations.

"Following our extensive UK tour I'm excited to be bringing the sound of our big band brass, saxes, rhythm and vocalists back home."

Five Star Swing will perform The Big Band at Christmas on Wednesday, November 18 at Harlow Playhouse. Tickets cost £12 and can be bought at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Solo Steve says wish you were here

ROCK guitarist Steve Forward will bring his one man Pink Floyd tribute back to Harlow GPCA in a fundraising gig.

One Floyd Solo will see Steve play some classics from The Wall and The Dark Side of the Moon albums.

Steve previously played in Great Parndon Community Association, Abercrombie Way, Harlow in promotion of the town LinkFest earlier this year.

After the successful sold-out gig he will return for a second performance to raise funds to ensure LinkFest returns in 2016.

The pony-tailed guitarist will be taking to the stage at 8.30pm next Friday (November 20).

Next year will be the fifth anniversary of LinkFest with two shows lined up at Harlow Town Park.

Steve's gig needs all the support possible to help make the free festival happen.

Tickets cost £6 in advance of the show and can be bought from: <https://gpca.co>

Imagery scenes

FICTITIOUS and imaginary landscapes, conjured from the deepest parts of artist's minds will be brought to life at a weird and wonderful art exhibition.

Xenotopia, which runs at Harlow's Giberd Gallery until December 17, presents out of this world work from 14 international artists.

The make believe and mythical images will be presented through the medium of print, with the futuristic feel suited to the unique architecture of Harlow new town.

Open Monday to Friday 9am-4.45pm with free admission.

Sing-a-long with Dino and the boys

HARLOW Playhouse audiences won't be able to take their eyes off Let's Hang On. After five years of performances, the tribute show to the music of Frankie Valli and the Four Seasons will be returning to the venue this month.

Remarkably, after 50 years, the rock 'n' roll songs are more popular than ever.

Guitarist Dino Buttarazzi, who says the show has won the praise of Frankie, is looking forward to playing in Harlow.

"We've been to the Playhouse two or three times a year for the past five years, we keep going back as the audience can't get enough," he said. "It is not so much the venue itself but the people in them, and we can trust Playhouse audiences to be singing the songs back to us."

He added: "We actually met the real Frankie once after a show at the Royal Albert Hall.

"He is in his 80s now and it was a weird experience, but he was very complimentary which meant a lot."

Dino, 39, founded the group in 2007 alongside fellow Loughborough man Martin Peat and the pair recruited Scott Walker, Jay Harrison and Robin Maughan, who stars as Frankie.

Since their formation the band have played some of the country's largest venues.

Fans are always up for singing along to classics such as December 63 (Oh What

A Night), Bye Bye Baby, and Dino's favourite Can't Take My Eyes off You.

The climax of each show is the five-piece's spectacular version of the most famous hit Let's Hang On.

Dino said: "Unlike other tributes, this one is all about the music and it doesn't matter so much what we look like as the songs are the most important thing.

"We make enough changes to the set to keep things interesting for us, and the songs are never a chore to play."

■ Let's Hang On will be at Harlow Playhouse on Saturday November 21. Tickets cost from £21.50 to £22.50 from www.playhouseharlow.com.

Howick & Brooker

Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow, CM17 0DN

MULBERRY GREEN, OLD HARLOW

£650,000

'...An Amazing Bungalow With An Equally Amazing Kitchen...'

Probably one of the most attractive streets in the old town, Mulberry Green has so much character and is within the local conservation area as well. "Smiles" is a classic, modern bungalow with a difference. Many windows overlooking the gorgeous gardens with a big garden room tucked away in a sunny corner. Handmade bedroom furniture and then the kitchen, outstanding, would impress even Mary Berry or Jamie, has to be seen.

GREAT AUGER STREET, NEWHALL

'...A Stunning Piece Of Architecture Offering You A Grand Design Lifestyle To Match...'

On entering the hallway you are drawn to an open plan kitchen / dining room with study area. Wide glazed doors open out to the landscaped low maintenance rear garden which enjoys a sunny westerly aspect with patio and decked area with water feature. There is a utility room offering important storage with door out to a side passage which allows entry to the garage and gardens. The separate music/reading room snug could be adapted to be an office or study playroom. On the first floor there is a great sized living room enjoying views across open space. There are two similar sized bedrooms benefitting from a separate wet room. The second floor enjoys a master bedroom with walk through dressing area which leads to a modern en suite bathroom with shower. Sliding doors lead out to a westerly facing terrace which in turn overlooks the gardens and open playing fields. Across the landing is a good sized room currently used as an office/studio which would be an ideal fourth bedroom benefitting from its own terrace and open views over open space.

Haileybury

Haileybury requires committed, flexible and capable individuals to work within the Transport department in this outstanding independent boarding school. The successful candidates will: be a capable driver in all weather conditions; hold a current driving licence with categories D1 or D1(101) and have good communication skills at all levels. In addition, they will be patient, reliable and punctual. Suitably experienced people are required for the following positions:

Part Time Minibus Driver

20 hours per week, term time only.

Core hours of working are Monday to Friday, 6.30am - 8.30am and 6.25pm - 8.25pm.

The primary objective of the role is to transport pupils to and from school at the start and end of the school day, including the general care of the bus before and after each school run. In addition, the roles will involve assisting as necessary with driving vehicles for MOT testing and any other reasonable driving requests.

Vehicle Maintenance Person and Relief Minibus Driver

15 hours per week (term time only) + up to an additional 100 hours per year to be worked during term time and outside of term time.

Core hours of working are Monday to Friday, 8.00am - 11.00am (term time only).

The primary objectives of the role are to carry out basic maintenance duties and to take the buses into the garage for services, general checks and the daily cleaning of the vehicles. In addition, the job holder will act as a Relief Minibus Driver during term time and undertake additional maintenance duties (up to a total of 100 hours per year).

For an application pack, please visit <https://www.haileybury.com/my-haileybury/careers-haileybury/support-staff-vacancies> or, alternatively, please contact Human Resources on 01992 706379.

For an informal discussion, please contact Mrs Frances Durbin, Transport Manager on 01992 706378.

Closing Date: Monday 23rd November 2015.

Haileybury is committed to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children and young people and expects all staff to share this commitment. Applicants for the above post must be willing to undergo child protection screening, including reference checks with previous employers and a criminal record check via the Disclosure and Barring Service.

Planning Notices

Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 (as amended) NOTICE UNDER ARTICLE 38 OF PROPOSAL FOR REVISIONS TO CONDITIONS OF LOCAL DEVELOPMENT ORDERS GRANTING PLANNING PERMISSION

London Road South Enterprise Zone site

Notice is given that Harlow Council proposes to make revisions to the London Road South Local Development Order.

In 2013, the Council consulted on and adopted three Local Development Orders (LDOs), known as London Road North LDO, London Road South LDO and Templefields North East LDO. The LDOs grant planning permission for certain forms of development on the Enterprise Zone sites if the proposals were in line with the requirements set out in the Orders and accompanying documents. Further amendments to all three of the LDOs were made in 2014 after it was identified that phasing of the developments could aid implementation.

The data centres planned for the London Road South site have evolved and improved their design to accommodate a much more energy efficient operation, which necessitates a change to the shape of the buildings. It is proposed therefore to amend the relevant conditions of the London Road South LDO to increase the height of the data centres from 12m to 14m. The type and amount of space that the LDO allows remains the same, as does the access to the site and the treatment of the site's boundaries.

From 12 November 2015, the revised LDO and accompanying Schedule of Changes will be available for inspection at the Harlow Council Civic Centre and in Harlow libraries during normal opening hours. They will also be available to download, along with supporting technical documents, from the Council website at <http://www.harlow.gov.uk/harlowLDO>

ROAD TRAFFIC REGULATION ACT 1984 - SECTION 14(1)(a) AND THE MOTORWAY TRAFFIC (ENGLAND AND WALES) REGULATIONS 1982 - SECTION 16(2)
THE M11 MOTORWAY (JUNCTION 6 TO JUNCTION 7) (TEMPORARY RESTRICTION AND PROHIBITION OF TRAFFIC) ORDER 2015

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Highways England Company Limited (a) has made an Order on the M11 Motorway in the County of Essex, to enable carriageway resurfacing and associated works to be carried out in safety.

The works are expected to take place overnight (10pm – 6am) starting on or after Monday 23 November 2015 for 4 nights. The works will be carried out in phases using a combination of carriageway and slip road closures, and lane closures with hard shoulder running. A temporary speed limit will be in force, at certain times, in the interest of safety. The speed limit and closures will be applied only to the extent that is necessary for particular works to be undertaken and will only apply during such times and to such extent as will be indicated by traffic signs.

The effect of the Order on the M11 will be to –

1. impose a speed limit of 50 miles per hour –
  - northbound between points 1000 metres south of the southern overbridge at J6 and 1000 metres north of the northern overbridge at J7, and
  - southbound from a point 1000 metres north of the southern overbridge at J7 to the northern overbridge at J6,
2. close, alternately the –
  - northbound M11 between the exit and entry slip roads at J6 – diverting traffic west via the M25 anticlockwise to J26 to turn and return clockwise to join the M11 at J6,
  - southbound M11 between the exit and entry slip roads at J6 – diverting traffic via the M25 clockwise to J28 and return on the anticlockwise carriageway to join the M11 at J6,
  - southbound entry slip road at J7 – diverting traffic via the M11 northbound to J8 and return on the M11 southbound, and
  - northbound entry slip roads at J6 from the clockwise and anticlockwise carriageways of the M25.

The speed limit (which will not apply to emergency service or special forces vehicles), closures (which will not apply to emergency service, winter maintenance, traffic officer or works vehicles) and diversion routes will be clearly indicated by traffic signs throughout the works.

The Order will come into force on 16 November 2015 and have a maximum duration of 18 months.

Essex bronze joy for racers

TWO medals were secured by Harlow Running Club members at the Essex County Ten Mile Championships.

This doubled up as the Stebbing Ten Mile race, near Dumlow. There were also nine personal best (PB) times for the distance.

John Tennant (155th in 1hr 15min 23sec) and Paulene Galoppi (428th in 1.43:27) won the bronze medals in the men's veteran 60 and women's vet 65 categories respectively.

First Harlow runner, on his debut for the club, was Rich Hynes in 38th place out of 494 finishers in an excellent 1.03:35.

He was followed home by Alex Smith (61st in 1.06:48 PB), Adrian Fell (66th in 1.07:27) and Steve Mackenzie (76th in 1.08:19).

First Harlow woman was Louise Brass (82nd in 1.09:21 PB), followed by Dionne Jones (123rd in 1.13:06), Julia Gardiner (139th in 1.14:27) and Sharon Wright (147th in 1.14:53).

There were PBs for Brendon Maclean (117th in 1.12:21), Alan Wellbelove (205th in 1.20:15), Catherine Ridge (222nd in 1.21:30), Richard Smith (223rd in 1.21:34), Debbie Barry (251st in 1.22:55), Debbie Smith (291st in 1.26:09) and Michelle Hyde (329th in 1.28:54).

Crosskeys have Becks factor

Netball

YOUNG players at a netball club have been inspired by coaching sessions with two England players – and a club coach admitted it was the equivalent of David Beckham running a training session for a football club.

Goal shooter Louisa Watson as well as goalkeeper and goal defence Lindsey Keable held the sessions for Crosskeys at its home at Mark Hall Sportscentre in Old Harlow.

Watson is head of netball at Bishop's Stortford College. She has 55 England caps.

Keable, 27, has seven England caps.

Both players play for the Hertfordshire Mavericks in the English Superleague.

Crosskeys head coach Mel Boulton explained: "Lindsey was mostly working with fitness and tactical skills."

"She did some defensive drills as well."

"Louisa ran a shooting workshop. She looked at tactical skills in the circle."

"It has been tremendous. It's like having David Beckham come to your football club."

Crosskeys is home to 200 players from Year Four upwards.

Its top team plays in the Eastern Region League.

It also runs teams in leagues that play in Bishop's Stortford, Sawbridgeworth, Harlow and Turnford.

Its U16 team will compete in a tournament taking place in Ware on Sunday.

Axe falls on old league but club get a lifeline

Men's and women's teams to combine in new division

by Alan Scott

alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

THE search for the next Andrew Osagie to star for Harlow Athletic Club has been given a lifeline after fears that the senior teams would no longer be competing in a league were diminished.

Osagie, who made the final of the 800m at the 2012 London Olympic Games, starred for his home town club in Southern League meetings during his teenage years.

But having battled on despite not being able to stage their Southern League home meetings at Mark Hall Sportscentre because the track lost its competitive licence, the axe was set to fall on the whole league.

High standard

However, Harlow have been granted permission to join a different league and the club's senior men's and women's teams will combine and compete in this from next year.

Club secretary Paul Avontuur explained: "With a switch to the Southern Athletics League, Harlow AC will continue to provide competition for men and women at a very high standard."

"The new league will also provide youngsters coming through the ranks with new or additional opportunities to test themselves against some of the best local athletes."

"Hopefully, the combined men and women's team will continue to be as successful in the new league, as they were as separate teams in the SML [Southern Men's League] and SWL [Southern Women's League]."

Harlow will start life in the new league in Division Three North (East), probably competing against clubs such as Woodford Green & Essex Ladies, Colchester and Tendring, Peterborough, plus Newham and Essex Beagles.

Men's captain Dave Bauer, a Great Britain masters international in field events, explained that the demise of the old league came about because not enough athletes, officials or volunteers came forward to run it, both in the men's and women's format.

"They have both been steadily dying for some years," said Bauer, who first started competing for Harlow in 1984. "We either enter this league or we no longer have a women's team or a men's team in any league in the summer season, which would be quite frankly catastrophic for a competitive athletics club as we are."

Harlow first moved to its Mark Hall home in Old Harlow in 2005 when the complex was finished.

They were based at the old Harlow Sportcentre location in Hammarkjold Road, until it closed.

The club is looking for new members, young and old. Go to www.harlowac.co.uk/ for more information about the club.

Burnt Mill pride at sporting trio

YOUNG sport stars from Harlow are making big strides in their chosen fields.

Students from Burnt Mill Academy, in First Avenue, have scooped county, regional and national titles.

Judo player and Year 7 student Emma Nunn, 11, won her category at the British Minors Championships.

After her victory, Emma said: "I feel really happy and excited. I was a bit nervous about all the people watching at the finals."

"You have to be really good to get there so I knew it was going to be a hard competition. I felt more relieved as the day went on and my fights went well."

Lois Tappenden, Year 7, has been named Eastern Region trampolining champion after just two years in the sport.

The 11-year-old member of the Harlow-based Apex Trampoline Club said: "I feel pretty happy with myself. I have won lots of competitions before, but never this one."

Runner Sidnie Ward, a Year 8 student, was Essex Schools Year 7 cross country champion, Essex and East of England indoor U13

800m champion, Essex outdoor 200m and 800m U13 champion and Essex Schools' U13 800m champion.

He also came third in the South East of England Inter-counties Cross Country Championships and is ranked number two in the UK for U13 boys at 1500m and number three for the U13 boys' 800m.

Kristina O'Hara, head of Burnt Mill PE, said: "These students are exceptionally talented and we are very proud to have such great success and role models within the academy."

Rams coach delighted with two debutants

RFU London Division Three

RAMS head coach Lee Harron praised debutants Ross Stalley and Charlie Robinson as the pair came off the bench to bolster his side.

The impressive 14-3 victory away to a Stowmarket side who were challengers last season, shows the progress Harlow are making.

They are also set to be boosted by the return of fly-half Danny Smith for this weekend's home match against Beccles.

Harron said: "It was a good result and performance with several changes to the side from the last outing, with debuts for Ross Stalley and Charlie Robinson, who both acquitted themselves well.

"We need to have a little more patience in key areas and be more decisive when we create opportunities."

The win put Harlow in third place, behind leaders Epping Upper Clapton and second-place West Norfolk.

Harlow have a match in hand as a result of the removal from the table of Old Brentwoods who have withdrawn from the league.

Three minutes into the game a try from number eight Kain Claridge was converted by Scott Whitby to put Harlow 7-0 up.

The visitors held on to this margin until two minutes from the interval when a Stowmarket penalty made it 7-3 at the break.

The high point of the second half was a superb Harlow try involving a number of players and some great handling.

It was all the more impressive considering the damp weather conditions, which made open play very difficult.

Alasdair Phillips rounded off the move and once more Whitby was on target with the conversion.

Tight play by Harlow prevented any home comeback.

"In poor conditions Harlow played the majority of the sensible rugby keeping the ball out of their 22," explained Harron.

"Discipline was also good, not allowing Stowmarket easy opportunities to get into this area.

"Two well taken tries, particularly the second try that was an excellent free flowing move through multiple phases in difficult conditions."

HARLOW: Cunningham, Stonehouse, Fitzgerald, Twiner, Palmer, M. Bowring, Roberts, Clarridge, Woodington, Brown, Phillips, Heapy, McGlone, Whitby, Mackie. Subs (all used): Drake, Stalley, Robinson.

Wanstead flat

EPPING Upper Clapton made it six wins out of six to stay clear at the top of RFU London Division Three North East by leaving Wanstead flat.

Their opponents were no match for the hosts, losing 40-0.

An early try gave Clapton a great start.

Three more tries made the half-time score 26-0.

Three second-half tries completed the rout in an entertaining match considering the awful conditions.

On Saturday Clapton travel to bottom-of-the-table Upminster, who are winless this season.

Hawks boss has high hopes for midfielder

Ryman North

Cray Wanderers ..... 1

THE capture of Leon Fisher from Ryman Premier side Brentwood Town is certainly grounds for optimism.

The central midfielder made his Hawks debut in the 1-1 home draw with runaway leaders Cray Wanderers.

He has also played for VCD Athletic, Ware, Enfield Town and Wingate & Finchley.

He only played the last 15 minutes against Cray, but is the type of player who can unlock defences and provide the killer pass for the likes of Alex Read and Junior Dadson to get on the end of.

"We have brought him because we feel we need to get hold of the ball," said Harlow boss Danny Chapman.

"He could be key. Lewis Perkins is going to be out [until Christmas] and he [Fisher] can do that role. He needs to grasp the way we do things quicker.

"We play different to the way he has been playing [at Brentwood]. It's going to take a few training sessions for him to get to grips with what we are looking to do. Once he does that he has a chance of getting in the [starting line-up].

"He can create and make things happen. I have known him for a few years as a player. He will add to the power and presence we have. Cray went in front on three minutes. A corner found its way to the back post, where unmarked Uche Ibemere headed in from close range.

The Hawks were level on 17 minutes. Ryan Melaugh's corner found Ibrahima Sonko at the back post who headed back across goal to Leon Antoine, who rose highest to send a looping header back over the keeper and just under the bar.

Dadson and Read both missed two chances, with the latter having a goal ruled out for offside.

Craig Pope also could have netted. The visitors also had a number of chances.

Chapman added: "I thought it was a really good game to watch. We had six chances that should be goals. I thought second half we deserved to win the game.

"We had a gameplan to let them come on to us and hit them on the break. Our attitude was spot on, just on the day we lacked one or two goals."

Signing

Harlow also hope to wrap up the signing of a defensive midfielder from a Ryman Premier club today (Thursday).

He is available for Saturday's Trophy tie away to Ryman South Molesey.

Unless there's a Trophy replay, Harlow will host struggling Heybridge Swifts on Tuesday.

Centre-half Ibrahima Sonko (groin) and midfielder Cyrus Gordon (ankle) are doubtful for Saturday. Meanwhile, Jordan Gill has joined St Margaretsbury on loan.

Olivia so close to gold joy at East Champs

OLIVIA COLLIER shone for Harlow Gymnastics club at the East Region finals in Ipswich.

Competing against elite gymnasts from Suffolk, Hertfordshire, Norfolk, Cambridgeshire and Essex, the 14-year-old missed out on the gold medal by only 0.15 points.

She was awarded the East Region level four age 14+ overall bronze medal, after placing second on vault and fourth for bars, beam and floor.

The Stewards Academy pupil qualified after winning a gold medal at the Essex County Levels competition in Colchester.

Also at Essex, Brodie Keown, ten, won gold for bars in the level five competition and was third on vault in the level five age ten-11 event.

In the county level four age ten-11 competition, Lois Hale was fifth overall (vault 4th, beam 5th, floor 6th).

Sadie Jessey, 11, was ninth overall, while Scarlet McFarlane, ten, was 17th.

In the county level three age 13+ event, Joanne Barylski, 16, was eighth overall, placing third on bars and fifth on vault.

Beth Harryman, 14, was second on vault and was ninth overall.

Taylah Andrews Clark, 15, was second on bars and fifth on vault to finish tenth in the level five age 12+ event. Twin sister Halle Andrews Clark, 15, was 12th.

In the level five age nine competition, Ruby Still (9) was fifth on floor and ninth overall. Molly McCarthy, eight, was

Leopards on a national quest

LEVETT Essex Leopards will look to reach the National Cup semi-final when they host Derby Trailblazers at the new-look Brentwood Centre on Sunday.

Steve Ogunjimi's side will be aiming to move a step closer to a third National Cup success in the space of 11 years, with Ogunjimi playing a key role in the 2005/06 triumph.

The Derby game is the second half of the big weekend for Ogunjimi's team as they make the long trip to Bradford Dragons for a Division One game on Saturday evening.

Leopards' run of thrillers at home continued on Sunday, but the crowd at Harlow Leisurezone was left disappointed as Hemel Storm left with the league points following an 87-85 victory.

In a game that saw 14 ties and ten lead changes, Leopards led 84-82 following a Brian Nguru basket with 91 seconds on the clock, but after Ladi Brown was clattered driving to the basket with 44 seconds remaining, Ogunjimi received a technical foul for protesting, and the game swung in the visitors' favour.

Ashby led the hosts with 16 points, with Brown adding 15 points and captain Albert Margai taking 13 points and four assists.

Earlier in the game, Leopards cut the deficit to 48-46 at half-time, but a third quarter comeback set up another grandstand finish.

Brave Ladies show heart

HARLOW Ladies suffered a 40-0 defeat at Woodbridge in their RFUW National Challenge South East North One match on Sunday.

It has been a tough season so far with the Essex club nursing several injuries and a few retirements.

This has meant Harlow are focusing on building for the future and recruiting new players to strengthen the squad.

Woodbridge, lent Harlow two players to make up the numbers.

The hosts used their strength in the backs to play confident, clean, running rugby.

Harlow tackled strongly, ensuring Woodbridge had to work hard for their tries.

Harlow twice came close to scoring in the first half, but Woodbridge went into the break two tries up, plus a penalty (15-0).

Three tries in the final 20 minutes made it 34-0 as Harlow's tired legs began to show.

Beginners and experienced players are invited to training on Thursdays at 7pm.

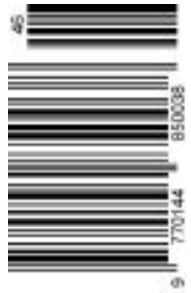

Email ladies@harlow-rugby.co.uk for more information.

HARLOW: Boggas, Blake, Hunter, Wooller, Wedd, Anne-Marie Rand, Tamayo, Mills, Costanzo, Bryant, Hancock, Jenkins, Stoneman.

Boss won't use cup success as excuse

Ryman North
Cheshunt . . . . . 2
Harlow Tn . . . . . 0
by Alan Scott
alan.scott@hertsessexnews.co.uk

DANNY CHAPMAN is considering putting out a full strength team away to Ryman South side Molesey in Saturday's FA Trophy second qualifying round tie – after being bitterly disappointed by the lacklustre performance at close neighbours Cheshunt.

The Harlow Town boss refuses to use the team's cup success this season as an excuse, but admitted his charges do look mentally drained.

"The people that played [against Cheshunt] need to be given the opportunity to put things right and for us to get back to winning ways," he fumed.

"But mentally we have found the last few weeks demanding on everyone and maybe we need a bit of a freshen up.

Taken its toll

"It has been a long couple of weeks, has it taken its toll on us? But if we want to get promoted we cannot have first-half performances like we have just had."

Cheshunt skipper Dave Kendall, midfielder Tom Bruno and full-back Joe Clemo all faced their old side, while Ambers boss Paul Wickenden used to be a coach at Harlow.

The Ambers came into the clash on the back of a tremendous nine-game unbeaten run, which had accrued nine clean sheets in 14 matches and scored 33 goals in that time.

Cheshunt took a deserved lead on 14 minutes when a long, high cross from the right from Joe Gator was met at the far post by striker Jason Hallett, who easily leapt high above some poor Hawks defending to nod the hosts in front.

The Ambers made it 2-0 on 22 minutes. Bruno's free-kick into the box was not cleared by the Harlow defence and Adam Bolle headed in rather too easily.

The Hawks were inept in the first half. You could argue that keeper Niklas Freund needs to be more positive and not be frightened to come off his line.

But that would mask some shocking defending, although Ibrahima Sonko's performance could be put down to a groin injury, and arguably he shouldn't have been risked for this game.

Near the hour mark Bruno reacted to a poor challenge from Craig Pope with a stamp, but escaped with a yellow card.

"A stamp is a stamp. Unfortunately it's always been a part of Tom's game that has let him down because he isn't a bad player. He just does stupid things. I think he can find himself very fortunate that he stayed on the pitch," said Chapman.

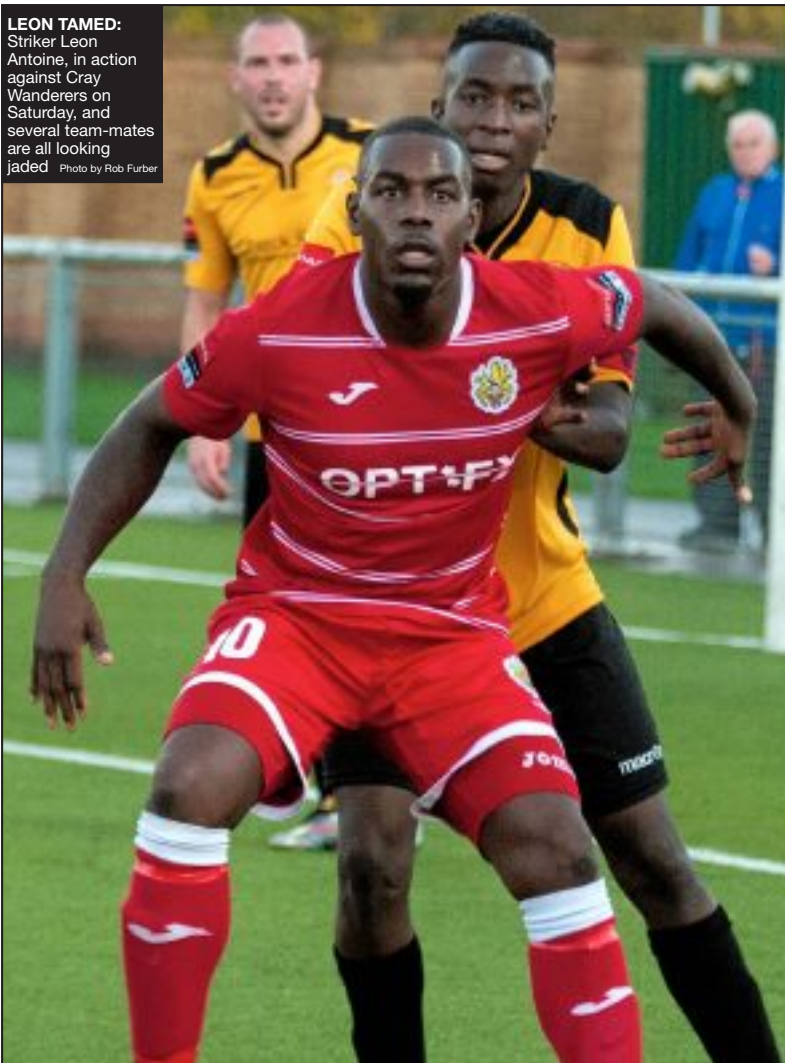

Harlow finally turned up for the last 20 minutes and Junior Dadsen went close, while Alex Read was denied by some great defending.

The closest Harlow came was on 90 minutes when Read lashed a fantastic 16-yard strike which was superbly tipped away by Ambers keeper Richard Heyward.

Chapman added: "First half we were very poor. They were better than us in the first half in every single department.

"Second half you could say we improved but the performance even in the second half was not at a level needed to win football matches."

The four-ce is strong in Andy

East Men's Hockey League
Division Six South West
Old Loughtonians Academy . . . 1
Harlow . . . . . 4

A FOUR-goal salvo from leading scorer Andy Boughtwood kept up Harlow's march towards the Division Six South East title.

With second-placed Clacton slipping up, Harlow moved three points clear at the top after seven wins from their eight matches this season.

Fourth-placed Old Loughtonians Academy were no match for Boughtwood's pace and precision last Saturday.

Harlow faced a tough challenge against an academy side full of future talent, but a ten-minute blitz put the game to bed early on.

Boughtwood fired all four goals inside the opening ten minutes to put Harlow comfortably in front against the hosts.

Harlow felt they had the game under control and nestled into half-time in full control.

The second half saw Harlow continue in cruise control but the visitors were carved apart following a lapse of concentration in the midfield and Loughts grabbed a goal back.

The game fizzled out with Harlow controlling the tempo of the game and sealing the three points.

On Saturday, Harlow face Waltham Forest at their home base at Leventhorpe School in Sawbridgeworth and will look to continue their strong run of form in the lead up to the Christmas break.

Ladies lose out

HARLOW Ladies host third-placed Chelmsford thirds on Saturday looking to return to winning ways.

Laura Hay's side lost narrowly 1-0 at Wapping fourths last weekend, who leapfrogged them in the Essex Women's Hockey League Premier Division table.

Harlow were unlucky to come away from Wapping with nothing.

The only goal came early on when the Wapping right winger crossed for a first time finish past keeper Linda Rowley.

Tanishaka Naidoo, Georgina Esterhuysen, Charlotte Byers, Rowena Rickett and Emma Twedde were all denied.

Harlow are eighth in the table.
